THE INVITATION

Come Stand at the Base of Everything

Every ascension, in the framework this document draws on, begins at the base. The Base/Root Gate is named the first of the Twelve to awaken, and it is anchored not at Hawai'i's better-known peaks but at the summit of Mauna Loa — the largest active volcano on Earth by volume, a mountain so vast its true bulk is mostly hidden beneath the Pacific.

Nartoomid's material names this summit the current Royal Point of what it calls the Golden Taya, tied to the planet's 19.5-degree latitude code-points and a structure the same source calls Thoth's FireGem matrix. Hawai'i, in that material, is framed as a remnant of Lemuria — MU — the first point of higher-soul descent to Earth.

The Gate's sponsors, St Germain and Lady Portia, also carry the separate sponsorship of the Arkansas Sun Disc — two distinct site-responsibilities, held by the same Masters, at two different places. This document keeps that distinction clear throughout.

The Largest Mountain on Earth, by Volume

Mauna Loa rises to 4,169 metres above sea level, but its true scale is far greater: measured from its base on the Pacific Ocean floor, it stands over 9,000 metres tall, and by sheer erupted volume — an estimated 75,000 cubic kilometres — it is the largest active volcano on the planet. It has erupted more than thirty times since written records began in 1843, most recently in 2022.

Unlike its neighbour Mauna Kea, Mauna Loa's summit is a broad, gently sloping shield rather than a dramatic peak — a caldera named Moku'āweoweo, several kilometres across, sitting atop a mountain whose real size is almost impossible to perceive while standing on it.

Hawai'i Island sits at the southeastern end of the Hawaiian-Emperor seamount chain, built over a fixed volcanic hotspot the Pacific Plate has drifted across for tens of millions of years — the same hotspot process, at a different point along its track, that will surface again at Moorea, the wheel's closing Sanctuary.

THE CHAKRA ITSELF

The Root of the Standing Body

In the classical yogic system this Gate is named for, Muladhara — the Root chakra — sits at the base of the spine, the foundation the rest of the body's energetic architecture is said to be built upon.

Associated with the element Earth and traditionally pictured in red, the Root governs the most basic facts of embodied life: survival, safety, the sense of solid ground underfoot, and belonging to a tribe, family, or place. A well-grounded Root is said to produce steadiness; a disturbed one, chronic anxiety about security and belonging.

That this Gate — the first to awaken, in the source material's own account — should be anchored at the base of the largest mountain on Earth is, this document suggests, a fitting correspondence: a chakra of foundation, matched to a foundation of genuinely planetary scale.

THE ORIENTATION

Its Place Among the Twelve Gates

Among the Twelve, this is the first Gate — the Golden Taya's own Royal Point, and the foundation the other eleven are said to build upon.

AWAKENED

Hawai'i is one of Arkansas's three confirmed cross-overs: this same summit region also carries the separate role of Satellite 01 in the field of Sun Disc Satellites, two functions held at one place.

WHAT THIS GROUND OFFERS

Beginning With What a Body Needs

WATER & BREATH

Thin volcanic-summit air, and the vast, unseen bulk of the mountain's true base beneath the Pacific.

GROUND & SHELTER

Raw lava rock, a mountain still actively building itself with each eruption.

FOOD & PROVISION

The fertile lower slopes and surrounding ocean, provisioning Hawaiian communities for well over a thousand years.

WORK & CRAFT

A living volcanology — Mauna Loa remains one of the most closely monitored volcanoes on Earth.

WHAT THIS GROUND OFFERS

Rising Toward What a Community Needs

KINSHIP & BELONGING

An island chain built, literally, from one shared geological root — the same hotspot, drifting, raising one island after another.

CHILDREN & LEARNING

A working lesson in scale: a mountain whose true size is more than double what the eye can see standing on it.

CULTURE & CEREMONY

Hawaiian tradition holding this island as first among the chain — an origin point, not simply one island among several.

REST & RENEWAL

A silence at the summit found nowhere else on the island.

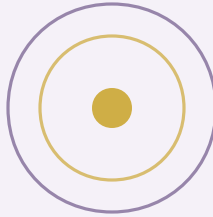

VISION & CALLING

Held, in the framework offered here, as the Golden Taya's own Royal Point — the first Gate to awaken.

A Foundation, Named First

Nartoomid's material ties this Gate to a structure it calls Thoth's FireGem matrix and the planet's 19.5-degree latitude code-points — a line of research this document reports as belonging to that specific tradition, not as independently verified fact.

What is offered here plainly is the pattern itself: a Root Gate, first to awaken, anchored to the largest mountain on Earth by volume — foundation matched to foundation.

A THRESHOLD, NOT A DESTINATION

None of this replaces standing on the ground itself. A Gate is not a monument and not a holiday stop — it is a place already at work, quietly, holding one point of the human body's own architecture open against the sky.

Whatever draws you here — the largest active volcano on Earth, or the quieter claim of a foundation point first to awaken — the invitation is the same one this whole field of Gates extends.

*Come see if it calls to you
the way it has called to everyone who has ever stood here and felt something larger listening back.*

FIELD NOTES

Specifications & Coordinates

Ascension Gate I of the Twelve · Mauna Loa summit, Hawai'i Island, United States.

THE SUMMIT

19.4721° N, 155.5922° W · Elevation 4,169 m (13,678 ft)

Caldera Moku'āweoweo; the largest active volcano on Earth by erupted volume, part of the Hawaiian-Emperor seamount chain.

CROSS-OVER STATUS

This same summit region also carries the role of Satellite 01 in the field of Sun Disc Satellites — two functions, one place.
